Experience

Dr. Chris Reeves' illustrious career spans more than two decades and includes stints at some of the nation's most prestigious medical institutions. A graduate of Kansas City University of Medicine and Biosciences, he went on to complete his orthopedic surgery residency at Michigan State University. Dr. Reeves practiced orthopedic surgery in Branson, Missouri for three years before attending a spine fellowship at the Beverly Hills Spine Group. While there, he operated at Cedars-Sinai Los Angeles under the leadership of some of the best surgeons in spine care. It was during this fellowship at Cedars-Sinai that Dr. Reeves received his extensive spine surgery training in minimally invasive spine surgery and disc arthroplasty, making him an ideal fit for Laser Spine Institute's surgical team.

Dr. Reeves is the father of two children and cherishes the time he spends enjoying a variety of outdoor activities with them.
